Reading exercises the mind and fosters success in all subjects. Teachers are being asked to do more with less time when it comes to reading instruction. ABC has listened to our teachers and have given them what they requested: more opportunities to develop reading skills outside of ELA. Our Science materials have more scientific articles and fact finding passages. The Social Studies materials provide more historical documents and informational texts which make reading fun and allow for opportunities to practice non-fiction reading skills. Math texts have more real world word problems, helping build critical thinking skills and offer extended response practice. American Book Company is all in when it comes to reading.

ABC covers all the standards in Georgia, but it's how a student studies and retains the information in middle school that has the greatest impact on lifelong learning. We designed our materials with incremental, measurable movement through the entire content. Teachers have multiple data points to individualize learning and keep their students on target.
